Secretary—
MR. KENNEY PRICE, BATHURST.
Copper ore having been discovered on the estate of John Findlater Clements, Esq., known as Sommerhill, situated on Campbell's River, about twenty-five miles from Bathurst, thirty individuals agreed to subscribe £20 each and formed themselves into an Association (of which the above Provisional Committee are members) for the purpose of opening a mine on that estate, with the ultimate view of establishing a public company, should their operations turn out favourably in the mean while.
The Association accordingly commenced operations, and expended £150 and upwards in sinking a shaft, and in other works, and lately employed Mr. John Whitford, a practical miner of considerable experience, to view the mine, and to report upon it.
Mr. Whitford reports that the mine now opened discloses a lode of copper which, in his opinion, may be worked with considerable profit.
£150 and upwards of the original subscriptions still remain unexpended. Arrangements most advantageous to the Association have been entered into with the Proprietor of the Estate, securing to the Association the right of working all mineral property on the estate, consisting of 1600 acres of land, for a period of twenty-one years, renewable for another twenty-one years.
Materials for erecting Smelting Works are on the estate, there being an extensive formation of serpentine, which is well known to be the best material for resisting the intense heat of smelting furnaces. There is also a plentiful supply of water and timber contiguous to the mine.
The Association, therefore, are of opinion that they are now in a position to carry out the original intention of establishing a Public Company to work the mine, and with that view beg to submit the following plan to the public.
The Company to be called
"THE BATHURST COPPER MINING COMPANY,"
CAPITAL £10,000,
IN 2000 SHARES OF £5 EACH.
The shares to be disposed of in the following manner:—Ten shares to be allotted to each of the members of the present Association, and to be considered as paid up shares on payment by the members of the Association of £20, the amount of their original subscriptions. These shares shall not be transferable or saleable until 500 other shares shall have been allotted to applicants for the same.
1000 shares to be open to the public, and the remaining 700 shares to be reserved for the benefit of the Company.
That when 500 of the shares open to the public shall have been applied for, the Provisional Committee shall allot the same.
No person to hold more than 50 shares.

"Sworn to no Master, of no Sect am I."

THE QUARTER'S REVENUE,
31st DECEMBER, 1848.

THE Revenue of the Sydney District of this Port for the past quarter, compared with that for the corresponding quarter of the previous year, exhibits the following results:—

TOTAL RECEIPTS.

31st December.	1847	£95,087
	1848	47,684
Decrease, being 28 per cent.		£19,403

GENERAL REVENUE.

31st December.	1847	£60,990
	1848	42,134
Decrease, being 17 per cent.		£8,736

CROWN REVENUE.

31st December.	1847	£16,086
	1848	6,420
Decrease, being 60½ per cent.		£10,666

These are serious fallings off, especially that of the Crown Revenue. Of the General Revenue there is a net decrease in each of the three branches, as will appear from the following detailed comparison:—

I. TAXES.

	1847.	1848.	Decrease.
Spirits imported	£16,890	£15,976	£744
Colonial spirits	3,206	2,315	915
Tobacco imported	9,028	8,846	89
Foreign goods	6,780	3,850	2,930
Auction duty	1,060	815	245
Night licences	1,910	310	1,600
Tolls and ferries	1,434	1,016	418
Sundries			12
Gross decrease			£7,080
			Increase
Post Office	£3,400	£3,480	£171
Assignments Expenses	356	356	87
Spirit licenses	503	588	85
Tonnage duties	100	128	28
Assessment on stock	90	284	195
Gross increase			£570
Total taxes in 4th quarter	1847	£46,112
	1848	39,032
Net decrease, being 15½ per cent.			7,010

The principal items of decrease are—ad valorem duties on foreign goods imported, the decrease on which is in the ratio of more than 43 per cent.; night licenses to publicans, and billiard tables, 83 per cent.; duties on spirits imported, 42 per cent.; duties on spirits distilled in the colony, 29 per cent.; auction duty, 49 per cent.; and tolls and ferries, 29 per cent.

The principal items of increase are—assessment of stock by Commissioners of Crown Lands, 219 per cent.; Post Office, 5 per cent.; licenses to auctioneers, 29 per cent.; and licenses to distillers and publicans, 17 per cent.

Distinguishing the Customs from other heads of taxation, we have the following results:—

	1847.	1848.	Decrease.
Customs	£[illegible]	£[illegible]	£[illegible]
Other taxes	£[illegible]	£[illegible]	£[illegible]

This decrease on the Customs is at the rate of nearly 12 per cent.; and on other taxes at the rate of more than 24 per cent.

The quantities of spirits upon which duty was paid were—

			Gallons.
Imported—4th quarter	1847		67,442
	1848		57,920
Decrease, being about 14 per cent.			9,522
Colonial—4th quarter	1847		16,832
	1848		13,287
Decrease, being 21 per cent.			3,545
Total spirits consumed—4th quarter	1847		86,418
	1848		80,617
Decrease, being nearly 7 per cent.			5,801

2. FINE AND FINES.—Under this branch of the General Revenue, there is a net decrease of £34. The proceeds from the Supreme Court show an increase of £173; and those of the Court of Requests a decrease of £105.

3. MISCELLANEOUS.—Here we have a net decrease of £1683, arising chiefly from there having been no sale, during the past quarter, of allotments near the Circular Quay, which in the corresponding quarter of 1847 produced £1200; and from the cessation of interest on Bank deposits, which in the fourth quarter of 1847 produced £358.

CROWN REVENUE.

The Crown Revenue, specifying only the principal items, was as follows:—

	1847.	1848.	Inc. or Dec.
Land Sales	£1,668.	£2,074.	32·3 Inc.
Quit Rents	9,104.	3,266.	89·3 Dec.
Land Leases	849.	145.	72·3 "
Squatting Licenses	3,870.	1,160.	69·7 "
Grazing Licenses	741.	626.	15·8 "
Sundries	914.	149
	£16,086	£6,420	60·3 Dec.

With the exception of the trivial increase of £590 in the proceeds of land sales, every item of the Crown Revenue here presents a very serious falling off.

The Revenue for the whole year we shall examine hereafter.

ANOTHER LOTTERY SCHEME.

THE gratifying result—to the proprietary—of the late Bank of Australia lottery, seems to have had the same effect upon them as, according to some naturalists, the taste of human blood has upon animals of prey. The agreeable recollection sharpens the appetite for more. A lottery, however, once and away, and under the peculiar circumstances which preceded and accompanied the one which has just gone off, may be just endured, and was only just endured by us, for we neither praised nor censured; but the attempt at an encore we would summarily stop. When we read the advertisement of the intended forthcoming affair, and the flourish about the fine properties only just out of the meshes of equity, (a sort of apology apparently for their not being put into the late affair,) we could not but exclaim, "something too much of this." We felt that we had helped the lame Bank over the style, and to some purpose, as the thousands upon thousands of our Haslingdeans and Fitz Royed fellow-citizens can ruefully testify; but we were and still are at a loss to discover, why a whole community are to be stimulated into a spirit of gambling, because a Banking Proprietary have not otherwise a good market for their properties. The question is one purely and peculiarly of public policy, and as such, and only so, shall we discuss it.

Lotteries cannot but demoralize the people engaged in them. Should it even be granted that they somewhat benefit those concerned in them, it is certain that they injure thousands. Even the units who gain the prizes, (as the few acceptable things in the wheel are called), are perhaps seldom the better for the suddenly acquired gain, which not having been obtained by labour, will not be guided by discretion. But if the miserably few gainers were in every instance rendered perfectly happy, what set off to this against the thousands upon thousands of poor people who have made shipwreck of their little all, with the object of getting what? a thirty-thousand pound prize? or a property that will support its gainer without labour? Oh no. But a bauble, and probably a disputed title, or a few hundred acres of land only, and ten or eleven thousand chances to one!! against even that.

It is this astonishing, and almost universal propensity in the rational animal man, to act rather upon the exceedingly remote possibility of gain, than upon the very strong probability of loss,—a propensity much less under control among the poor and illiterate, than among the educated classes,—that reconciles us to the English law, which prohibits lotteries altogether. Where this possibility of gain fascinates, more than the probability of loss deters, a legislature is justified in saving men from themselves; in keeping them beforehand in that position to which they would generally be so gladly restored after the event. How many thousands of purchasers of four pound tickets now regret that the Equitable Plan of Partition could not be (if it could not be) stopped under the English Lottery Act? How many are there,—aye, and even among the more intelligent of the gamblers,—whom we have heard in all the unreasoning disgust of Hastings or Fitz-Roy freeholders, denounce the whole affair as "a do," although they always knew, or ought to have known, that they could only get any thing worth having, at the expense of thousands of Hastingses, and Fitz-Royals, and that the chances were thousands to one against the holder, of any particular ticket.

It is not however for such as those that we speak. It is rather for the labourer who lives by the sweat of his brow, that we would give this timely warning. Ten thousand pounds were, we have been informed, drawn out of the Savings' Bank, for the purchase of tickets on the last occasion. Nurses, servant girls, stockmen, parsons, old bachelors, school-masters, all were touched. Arrears of wages, in many instances were carried away to Mr. Lyons, and other tempting dispensers of the dear bits of vellum, and with what result? Let those who winnered the drawing answer. Perhaps that man's three children, forgetful of their mother, now crouch in the pit adjoining the Gaol, and who can even forget the agonized shriek of the infant, and [illegible] in the [illegible] announcement of the numbers of the tickets to be drawn, the uncompromising suppression of an occasional child—too evenly crying infants in, arms were carried by their amiable mothers to the lottery—the hard breathing, and the excitement amongst the shoes, whenever something considered a prize was drawn, the almost audible groan of the old woman, when a Fitz Roy fell to her, and she was led out (by her friends,) depressed and sunk almost below the reviving reach of "nobbers," and above all, the universal agitation when No. 1. prize was proclaimed as drawn, an agitation which plainly expressed how wide the result was, of each person's calculations for himself, all these circumstances marked the extent to which the working classes are apt to be diverted from their ordinary useful pursuits, by the "ignis fatuus" of a lottery prize. Very nearly three days' labour lost, their money gone, disgust at themselves and everybody else—as after a debauch, alone remaining; lucky if the inclination to save is not altogether taken away, by this unlooked for misfortune.

We are not to suppose that even the intended forthcoming lottery would be the last, by very many, perhaps if it were, we might be inclined to let it pass, but individual proprietors of this very Bank of Australia (we have heard it whispered) contemplate getting off their unsaleable properties in the same way, if they can only make the working classes bite. But for these fertile gentlemen we shall be on the look out. They had better pause before they tempt their poorer fellow-citizens to beggar themselves and to distress their families, in order that the speculative Mr. A. or Mr. B. may get out of debt, by means of public contributions from the poor and credulous. We shall probably soon meet again, upon the same subject.

CITY COUNCIL.
SATURDAY.

A SPECIAL MEETING was held pursuant to notice. His Worship the MAYOR took the chair, and the following members were present at the hour appointed: Aldermen Allen, Broughton, Brown, Egan, Fisher, and Thurlow; Councillors Hazard, Little, Smith, more, Lingard, Jenkins, Driver, Simmons, Hill, Ryan, Moir, Moore, Wilshire, Josephson, and Tillerton.

MOVES OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD.

Alderman FISHER brought up a report from the Water Committee on the subject of an application from the Rev. Mr. Farrelly, requesting that a supply of water may be granted from the corporation works to the above institution, as to the Benevolent Asylum, free of charge. The report recommended that the application be acceded to. Received.

CONTRACTS.

Alderman ALLEN presented a petition, bearing 103 signatures, urging the Council to adhere to its resolution of the 4th December last, to let off the city works by contract. The petition was received—one hand only being held up in opposition to it.

Alderman FISHER moved that the resolution passed on the 4th December, 1848—"That all the improvements or works that are to be performed at the expense of the City during the year 1848-9, exceeding the value of £10 each, be done by contract, excepting such works as may be specially entered by the Council to be done otherwise; and that tenders for all contract work shall be addressed to the Council." The Alderman made no observation whatever on the resolution.

Mr. BLACKBURN seconded the motion.

Mr. WILSHIRE: After the very able and effective speech of the Alderman for Cook Ward, did not feel that he had much to reply to. But it did appear to him that when a gentleman got up a resolution so numerously signed as the present one, calling on the Council to retract something they had done wrong, that that gentleman should say something in support of such a course, and not make facts of the Council by asking them to rescind a resolution without assigning any reason for it. With regard to the question before them, there was much to be said on both sides, and the Alderman had on a former occasion expressed his opinion on the matter. Since the resolution was passed, which it was now sought to rescind, several obstacles had occurred to him which appeared fatal to him to the contract system, as hitherto carried out by the Council; and if it were proposed to revise the system in the same way he should oppose it. The plan adopted by the Improvement Committee was decidedly objectionable. Forty-five or fifty separate tenders were called for, and as the costs of this work was also presented by the City Surveyor. The tender of the Improvement Committee was very near to the estimate of the City Surveyor. The tenders were all opened in the presence of the Committee, and only of them

HOW THEY BUILD IN NEW YORK.—There was once a gentleman who, having moved into a house in Hudson street, tilted his chair backward against the front wall after dinner, as all Americans do, to enjoy his cigar. The dining room was on the second floor. The wall gave way behind him, and he was spilled into the street. He was an alderman, and, luckily, pitched upon his head—or, perhaps, he might have been hurt. He had a two hours' headache as it was. When he sought damages in the Court of Common Pleas he was nonsuited, on the ground that, living in a house in New York, he must have been aware of the peril, and was not entitled to compensation for harm of his wilful or careless seeking. A washerwoman in Canal-street, going to drive a nail into the brick wall of the next house, thereto to attach her clothes line, struck the iron through into the skull of the tenant, who happened to be taking his afternoon nap in the posture of the sufferer of the preceding story, and killed him as dead as Sisera.—Boston Herald.

IMPORTANT TO PARTIES WEARING ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

MR. J. EMANUEL, Surgeon-Dentist, duly qualified, wishes to inform his patients and the public in general, that he has received from a friend, an eminent Dentist in Paris, an information relative to making the plates that artificial teeth are fixed on. It is an entire new system, thereby doing away with all irritation, so that persons with most tender gums can wear them with the utmost ease and comfort; by their peculiar method many hundreds of persons will now be able to use Artificial Teeth that could not possibly do so before.

N.B.—This discovery being only known to Mr. E. (in this City), he cautions the public against imposition.

Mr. Emanuel begs to remind the public, that as there is no decided cure for tooth-ache but the extraction of the tooth, instantaneous relief may be obtained by purchasing his Tincture, so universally known and approved of; sold in bottles with directions for use at 2s. 6d.; also, Soothing Syrup for Infants teething. Teeth and stumps extracted; teeth cleansed of tartar, and stopped with pure virgin gold. Artificial palates on Mr. E.'s own principle, approved of by the Faculty of this city.

At home from nine A.M. till six P.M.

MUSIC.

MISS J. ABRAHAM, Professor of the Pianoforte, lately arrived from England, 382, George-street, opposite the Savings' Bank. 1357

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY, BAKING POWDER.

FOR making delicious unfermented bread, pastry, pie crusts, tea cakes, plumb cakes, and the preparations of Indian corn, without yeast.

Bread made by this method is more wholesome than that made with yeast, requires far less time and trouble in making, and sure to rise, it has an agreeable taste, keeps much longer, and much less disposed to turn acid on the stomach. By the old plan of baking the yeast decomposes and destroys the sugar of the flour, converting it into alcohol and carbonic acid gas, consequently fourteen pounds of flour will only make eighteen pounds of bread; but by this process, fourteen pounds of flour will make twenty pounds of bread.

To captains of vessels, settlers, and persons residing in the country, this baking powder will prove invaluable, if kept dry it will keep good in any climate.

Prepared only by A. ABRAHAM, Chemist, 382, George-street, Sydney, opposite the Savings' Bank.

In Packets, at 6d., 1s., and in tin cases at 2s. 6d. and 5s. each. 1358

"This very charming song is decidedly one of the most successful of the season. It conveys a sentiment which comes home to every heart. The melody is strikingly beautiful, and is within the range of most voices. The words are touching in the extreme. When sung with expression this ballad cannot fail of being very effective."—Illustrated London News. 1114

☞ Large plans showing the exact position of the above may be seen at the Rooms of the Auctioneer, to which attention is particularly invited.
The lots vary in size from 30 to 40 feet frontage by depths of from 60 to 99 feet, and as the land is intersected by the Parramatta Road with the City Road and Victoria-street on either side; many of them are admirably adapted for shops, public-houses, and the more especially as from the rapid advance of the neighbourhood and the rapidly increasing traffic, there is ample room for speculation, many of the tradesmen people are having accumulated small fortunes within the past year or two.
It must be borne in mind that the new line of road from Canterbury (which will divert the traffic past this property) will be opened immediately, and as Wilson-street will be continued past Mr. Felix Wilson's residence, and through Mr. Chisholm's farm across Chippendale, and past the Benevolent Asylum to Sydney, that street (in which number of the lots have frontage) will be as great a thoroughfare as the present road.
It is worthy of remark, as a proof of the rapidly increasing importance of property in this neighbourhood, that the tolls which a few years ago let for a mere nominal sum have been taken this year at the rate of £720 per annum, and the moment the new road
